

Ocean-Tek™ is both a fertilizer supplement and a marketing tool.

Why should I use Ocean-Tek™?

Many progressive growers are looking for more natural ways to grow vegetable and fruit crops. Growers are able to strengthen the health of their plants by using Ocean-Tek™. This makes it possible to reduce the use of pesticides.

Furthermore, Ocean-Tek™ is also valuable as a marketing tool. Growers that use Ocean-Tek™ can use vegetable labels branded with Ocean-Tek™. This informs the consumer that the growers are considering the consumer's best interests by using a natural product – Ocean-Tek™.

Ocean-Tek™ is a fertilizer supplement derived from ocean water.

Many of the trace elements that were once in our fields have washed into streams and rivers and eventually into the ocean. A patented system has been developed to harvest these trace elements from ocean water without damaging them. Over 80 trace elements have been identified in Ocean-Tek™. These can be used to increase plant health and to give the plant a faster immune response. We know what many of the trace elements do for plant health but it is not fully known by researchers how all the elements interact.

How does Ocean-Tek™ work in our crops to promote better health?

Ocean-Tek™ is a fertilizer supplement containing more than 80 trace elements. As you are very much aware current growing practices use N-P-K and about 8 minor elements. It is logical that plant health is difficult to maintain under these growing conditions. By adding Ocean-Tek minerals, plants are receiving a wide range of essential nutrients that strengthen the membrane on the cell walls and make it more difficult for pathogenic bacterium and fungi to enter and destroy tissue. The result is decreased use of pesticide which meets a demand placed on growers by the end consumer.

What about the marketing aspect of Ocean-Tek™?

Today all vegetables on the retail shelf are generic, some grown hydroponically, others in soil, but to the consumer they are all the same. Consumers that have tasted fruit and vegetables grown with Ocean-Tek™ will agree that it tastes better than anything they have tasted in a long time. This makes produce grown with Ocean-Tek™ minerals unique. Produce identified with an Ocean-Tek™ label will allow the consumer to purchase produce that tastes great.

Healthier
Plants,
Healthier
Food.

How do we get started?

It is very simple. All your company needs to do is use Ocean-Tek™ minerals in addition to your normal growing program. Then the Ocean-Tek™ logo will be available as an add on label or for integration into your company's own labels. A small fee would be applied to every acre of produce grown with our technology if the Ocean-Tek™ label is not purchased from Alpha Agri-Products Inc.
